Service Announcement

February 23, 2016

TO: WaTech Telecommunication Network non-County IGN Customers

FROM: Mark Quimby
Enterprise Data Networks
Telecommunications Services Division

SUBJECT: Removal of ISP Service Offering to IGN customers

The Intergovernmental Network (IGN) is a private network with known endpoints that enables Washington state counties, cities, federal agencies, tribes, health districts, and other authorized customers to securely connect to managed gateways and applications owned by the state. This network allows application access and information sharing across all levels of government. The IGN has a physical network aggregation presence in all 39 Washington counties and other select locations and governmental entities.

This notice is intended to communicate our work plan for the removal of our Internet service offering to the IGN customers WaTech serves. This work may directly impact each IGN customer listed in this bulletin. This activity was announced and discussed at the Fall Association of City and County Information Services (ACCIS) conference in October of 2015.

WaTech will remove and disable the service offering that has provided some IGN customers with Internet connectivity. WaTech plans to complete this effort by December 31, 2016.

Impacts may vary on a case by case basis, but are likely to include a new ISP subscription for our IGN customers.

We plan to provide specific details to each affected customer by March 31, 2016.
